France Médias Monde's purpose

watch and listen to the world to understand and act

France Médias Monde, a national public-service broadcasting company, exists

So that RFI, MCD and France 24 live and online audience, no matter their age, career or origin, can access a free, independent, honest, balanced and expert information in French or another language of the group. Against any form of manipulation. Worldwide.

So that its audience can think critically and acquire the keys to understand France, the Francophonie, Europe and the world, as well as the big global geopolitical, economic, environmental, social, health-related or development issues.

So that its audience can identify with one or more culture(s), vibrate together universally during significant cultural or sport events, expand their knowledge, abolish boundaries and feel close to what is far away.

So that dialogue and debate, as much as the democratic and humanist values and principles that France stands for – freedom of speech, gender and citizens equality, refusal of all kind of discrimination and secularity – can be shared and bring us together.

So that through their questions, opinions and testimonials, our audience can interact with our international media.

Human microcosm from the five continents, France Médias Monde is a company based on diversity and equality for all talents to express themselves. A responsible company, with intense social dialogue, where everyone contributes to the positive working atmosphere and strives ever more to protect the planet. A company that makes the security of its teams a sine qua non to carry out missions.
